(Case called)

MR. SCOTTEN: Good morning, your Honor. Hagan
Scotten, Celia Cohen, Derek Wikstrom, and Andrew Rohrbach for the government. Also, right behind counsel table are Braden Florczyk and Anna Gamboa who are paralegals with our office.

THE COURT: Good morning.

Everyone, please have a seat.

MR. SPIRO: Good morning, your Honor. Alex Spiro on behalf of Mayor Adams.

THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Spiro.

Good morning, Mayor Adams.

THE DEFENDANT: Good morning.

THE COURT: I'm Judge Ho, the district assigned to your case.

We're here for an initial conference in this matter.
Before I proceed, I just want to give everyone a roadmap of what I intend to go over today. We'll go over some preliminary matters, we'll talk about the pending motions that have been filed and set a schedule for resolving those, we'll address discovery, including the nature and volume of discovery, the timeline for production and any motions related to discovery, we'll talk about a trial date, a few items with respect to guidelines that I have for the parties going forward on a few matters.

Two other things I want to raise. I'll give the

OA2CadaC

1 parties an opportunity to raise anything you want to raise with 2 me and then we'll talk about the Speedy Trial Act.

3 Let's start with the preliminary matters. Can I get a 4 report from the government on the nature of the case.

5 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor. This case -- and I
6 know your Honor has read the indictment, so I'll be very brief.
7 But in short, this case concerns a long-running conspiracy by 8 the defendant to use his official position to obtain improper 9 benefits. Some of those benefits, such as the illegal foreign 10 campaign contributions are illegal per se, simply by their 11 nature. Others, such as the free heavily discounted travel he 12 took from foreign officials are illegal only because they were 13 exchanged for something else, because they were exchanged for 14 the defendant's sacrifice of his duties to the city in those 15 official positions. And so in total there's a conspiracy 16 charge encapsulating all of that.

17 Then there are three substantive offenses, although 18 there's two counts of one, which are, in short, wire fraud, 19 which is a result of filing false certifications and seeking 20 matching funds for what the defendant in fact knew to be 21 illegal contributions. There is a foreign contributions 22 count -- actually two because that's a per-calendar-year count, 23 and then finally there is a bribery count. I'd like to go into 24 further detail, but I know your Honor's reviewed the 25 indictment.

OA2CadaC

1 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 Does the government at this time anticipate -- and I
3 know it may be hard to say -- filing a superseding indictment 4 that would add charges or defendants?

5 MR. SCOTTEN: We think that is quite likely, both -- 6 I'll say it is possible as to additional charges and likely 7 that additional defendants will be charged in connection with 8 this scheme. Now, it's possible, and not entirely up to us, 9 that those additional defendants may have different cases, 10 whether or not they're superseded in this case or deemed 11 separate matters, I think the Court can judge once it sees 12 those cases.

13 THE COURT: Thank you.

14 I don't suppose you have anything as far as a timeline 15 for when we might expect something like that?

16 MR. SCOTTEN: I don't. I can say we're moving 17 quickly. And so I think the Court will be able to analyze at 18 least some of this early before it's committed to a trial date, 19 but I can't say when any particular investigation will 20 conclude.

21 THE COURT: Understood.

22 I assume based on the nature of the charges there are 23 no identifiable victims requiring notice under the CVRA?

24 MR. SCOTTEN: That's our understanding. That's right, 25 your Honor.

OA2CadaC

1 THE COURT: Can you tell me your understanding of the 2 current status of the speedy trial clock.

3 MR. SCOTTEN: So the speedy trial clock was initially 4 not started with the defendant's consent at the appearance 5 before Judge Parker on Friday, and the speedy trial clock is 6 now tolled by the defendant's actions. Because the defendant 7 has filed pretrial motions, he's prevented the clock from 8 starting to run. So the clock will be tolled until those 9 motions are fully briefed and speedily resolved.

10 THE COURT: I want to confirm, Mr. Spiro, that's your 11 understanding as well?

12 MR. SPIRO: It is not, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Please.

14 MR. SPIRO: So I just want to respond, and I guess it 15 is easier to use the podium very quickly.

16 THE COURT: I was just asking about the speedy trial 17 clock.

18 MR. SPIRO: We waived for two days. The motions, and 19 there were two of them filed, one of them has to do with 20 intentional government misconduct, and so they don't get an 21 exclusion from the Speedy Trial Act when they commit 22 intentional misconduct. So the speedy trial clock runs as of 23 today as far as I'm concerned.

24 THE COURT: You're saying that the speedy trial clock 25 is not paused by the motion to dismiss?

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: Not when adjacent to a motion that 2 involves intentional government misconduct, no. That's our 3 position.

4 THE COURT: I'm not sure I understand that. Could you
5 elaborate why, under 3161(h)(1)(D), the filing of your motion 6 to dismiss, which was filed before the motion for sanctions, 7 does not stop the speedy trial clock and any authority you have 8 for that proposition?

9 MR. SPIRO: Sure. When they are simultaneous motions
10 filed and one of them has to do with government misconduct, 11 it's our position that intentional government misconduct and 12 the need to respond to that does not toll the speedy trial
13 clock. They don't get an advantage from that. And so --

14 THE COURT: I understand that's your position, 15 Mr. Spiro, but what's your authority for it?

16 MR. SPIRO: There are Second Circuit cases -- if the 17 Court will just give me a moment.

18 THE COURT: Well, we can come back to the speedy trial 19 clock at the end of today's conference, Mr. Spiro. That's 20 fine. I understand your position. We'll talk about it at the 21 end.

22 Why don't we move to a schedule for the motions that 23 you've filed. My first question before setting a schedule is 24 whether or not you anticipate filing any additional motions at 25 this time? The reason I ask is because I'd like to set a

OA2CadaC

1 single schedule for any early motions that don't require the 2 benefit of a review of the discovery so that we're not doing it 3 piecemeal, we can do it all at once.

4 MR. SPIRO: We do not intend to file additional 5 motions at this time.

6 THE COURT: Under local Rule 49.1, there's two weeks 7 for the government to oppose and one week for reply, but I'll 8 hear from the parties if either of you think that there's a 9 more appropriate schedule for these motions.

10 MR. SCOTTEN: Thank you, your Honor.

11 So, assuming that the Court is effectively setting a 12 deadline of today -- it sounds like with the defense consent -- 13 for motions under 12(b), which, as your Honor says, are 14 typically done all together, responded to all together, and 15 resolved all together, I think we would ask for a response 16 period of four weeks and be comfortable with two weeks for 17 reply.

18 I'm happy to discuss the two motions briefly.

19 So the first motion --

20 THE COURT: I don't think we need to get into the 21 substance of the motions. You may have to touch upon the 22 substance a little bit, but can you tell me why you think you 23 need four weeks when the local rules typically provide for two?

24 MR. SCOTTEN: Sure. So the first motion, the motion 25 to dismiss a count, is -- entirely expected, is essentially the

1 motion that every public corruption defendant files at the 2 beginning of a case. So that we don't think would require any 3 additional time. I think we can do two weeks if the Court 4 wants to do them in different time sequences.

5 The motion alleging improper disclosure of grand jury 6 material was a bit surprising to us because the Mayor has 7 previously taken the position through his attorneys that he 8 knew our office was not behind any improper disclosures, and in 9 fact said he understood that it was against our interest 10 through his attorneys.

11 Answering that probably requires a more careful 12 submission to the Court for a couple reasons. It's bounded by 13 a lot of factual misunderstandings. Some of those I think are 14 maybe honestly come by. The defendant is not going to be aware 15 of all the measures our office has taken in this case to 16 prevent unauthorized disclosure for the simple reason that we 17 don't discuss those things publicly or with subjects of 18 investigations.

19 Other aspects -- and I'll get to why this takes time 20 because it's sort of about being careful and how we address it.
21 Other aspects, the factual errors I think are more maybe clear 22 from the face, but have to be developed carefully. So, for 23 example, the motion asserts that with respect to some subpoenas 24 that were served, only the prosecution team could have known 25 about them, and that's obviously wrong. They were served upon

OA2CadaC

1 the defendant, his staff, his campaigns. And so the circle of 2 the distribution of that information as a natural result of 3 serving it became quite wide. We want to be able to fully 4 inform the Court as to sort of this broad circle of people that 5 the defendant shared it with, but we don't want to imply that 6 just because somebody had the information, that person or group 7 of persons was the source of any particular disclosure. So we 8 want to make a careful submission that has some factual 9 development in it and doesn't sort of -- sort of makes our 10 points without implying any particular person was the source of 11 disclosure.

12 THE COURT: Thank you. I'll hear from Mr. Spiro.

13 MR. SPIRO: They brought this case, they decided 14 they're going to bring it, they knew we were going to file 15 these motions. They knew, as they just said, that these 16 motions are filed regularly in corruption cases. In fact, 17 these same prosecutors brought the case against Mr. Benjamin, 18 which was dismissed.

19 As to the other motion, they also knew we were going 20 to bring that motion. We sent three letters telling them 21 effectively we were going to bring that motion, telling them to 22 stop leaking, stop violating their ethical canons, stop
23 committing 6(e) violations, which are crimes. We told them 24 that. They knew we were going to file that motion. They 25 brought this case against the city Mayor. There's a primary

1 election at the beginning of next year. We have every right
2 and the public has a right to have a speedy trial here. There 3 is no reason to expend any more time on this issue or to give 4 them any further than two weeks. They have a bevy of lawyers 5 here to handle these motions. They're not particularly 6 complicated. There's absolutely no good cause to extend this 7 any further as to the two weeks.

8 The case that your Honor asked me about, I had thought 9 you were going to speedy trial at the end, but I'll give it to 10 you now, which is United States v. Moreno, which is a Second 11 Circuit case, 2015. I can give you the cite if you would like.

12 THE COURT: We'll take it up at the end of the 13 conference, Mr. Spiro.

14 Just so I understand, your proposal is government 15 oppositions to your two motions in two weeks. So that would be 16 October 16th?

17 MR. SPIRO: Yes.

18 THE COURT: The government's proposal is October 30th; 19 is that right?

20 MR. SCOTTEN: That sounds right, your Honor.

21 And, your Honor, as I said, the first motion was 22 expected. So if the Court wants them one at a time, we can do 23 two weeks and then four weeks. I think it would be quite easy.

24 MR. SPIRO: With all due respect to the government, 25 that proposal, just to make the record clear, is objected to by

1 the defense. We can even get our motions in faster than a
2 week, if necessary, and the reply. We do not want this case
3 dragging. There's no reason for it to drag and there's no 4 reason to deviate from the local rules.

5 The other thing I would just simply say is I assume 6 the government is preserving their cellphones and 7 communications, text messages, and other electronic 8 communications regarding the sanctions motion, and so are 9 everybody else at the U.S. Attorney's Office that was involved 10 in that.

11 THE COURT: Here's what I'm going to say: Let's have 12 the government's oppositions to the motions due - I'll give you 13 a little more than two weeks - October 18th, which is two weeks 14 from this Friday.

15 How much time would you need, Mr. Spiro for your 16 replies?

17 MR. SPIRO: I would stick to the standard schedule at 18 this point. If you want to do it a day early, I'd do a day
19 early, but I think the next Friday is fine.

20 THE COURT: We'll say one week, which is consistent 21 with the local rules. So that's October 23rd. Unless there's 22 an objection from the government?

23 MR. SCOTTEN: No objection, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: I want to set a hearing date, if we need 25 one, we may not, but let's get something on the calendar for

1 that. I said the 18th for the oppositions, right?

2 MR. SPIRO: Yes, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: We did one week. So the 25th for reply.

4 MR. SPIRO: Yes, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: I said 23rd, but I think I meant 25th.

6 MR. SPIRO: I thought so, too, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Thank you.

8 So 25th for reply. Let's say the 31st for a hearing 9 date if we need one. Is that fine with everyone? I'm getting 10 a quizzical look from you.

11 MR. SCOTTEN: I'm wondering, your Honor, if it might 12 be profitable -- to the extent your Honor is going to entertain 13 argument on the motions -- to have one date for argument and 14 then, if necessary, a later hearing date. I suspect to the 15 extent there was going to be any hearing, the Court would 16 identify particular issues of material fact, which might not be 17 the entirety of the motions, it might proceed in the more 18 orderly fashion that way or we can sort of argue it, and then, 19 if there's going to be a hearing, do a hearing, as the Court 20 prefers.

21 THE COURT: The latter is what I had in mind here. I 22 wasn't setting an evidentiary hearing on the motions, on the 23 sanctions motion at this time. It will be argument on the 24 motions that have been filed.

25 MR. SCOTTEN: Thank you, your Honor.

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: That's fine, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Great. Let's turn to discovery.

3 Before diving into the nature and volume of discovery,
4 I want to confirm that there's already been both an oral and a 5 written Brady order in this case. Is that everyone's 6 understanding?

7 MR. SCOTTEN: That's correct, both by Judge Parker,
8 your Honor.

9 MR. SPIRO: Yes. And I have reiterated a specific 10 raid Brady demand as to Brady I know is in the government's 11 potion, so yes.

12 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I didn't hear that, Mr. Spiro.

13 MR. SPIRO: I have also served on them a specific 14 Brady demand regarding their key witness in this case, and 15 Brady that we believe is in their possession, and Giglio we 16 believe is in their possession. Yes, it's those two orders 17 plus my specific demand.

18 THE COURT: Just to put on the record, I'm directing 19 the government to review and comply with the written order that 20 Magistrate Judge Parker put on the docket earlier today. Okay?

21 MR. SCOTTEN: Did you want to hear about discovery,
22 your Honor?

23 THE COURT: I just wanted to hear your confirmation 24 that you'll review and comply with the order.

25 MR. SCOTTEN: Absolutely, your Honor.

OA2CadaC

1 THE COURT: And Mr. Spiro, you've already submitted to 2 the government a request for specific Brady material?

3 MR. SPIRO: Yes, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: And you'll continue to do that if anything 5 new occurs to you, any requests to the government, to seek out, 6 review, and/or produce certain evidence or information that you 7 believe may contain or is reasonably likely to lead to the 8 discovery of Brady material?

9 MR. SPIRO: I'm doing my best, but they haven't 10 replied to it yet.

11 THE COURT: In the event that there are other 12 categories of information that you seek from the government, 13 you'll put in a request?

15 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Spiro.

16 Now, the parties also filed a proposed protective 17 order yesterday signed by counsel. I just want to confirm on 18 the record that the parties consent to it?

19 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor.

20 MR. SPIRO: Yes, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: I'll so order it after this conference.

22 Mr. Scotten, could we turn to the nature and volume of 23 discovery in the case.

24 MR. SCOTTEN: Absolutely, your Honor.

25 I suppose I'll start with the nature since your Honor

OA2CadaC

1 started there. So, obviously I can't cover all of it. The 2 discovery is extensive. For the Court's reference, this is an 3 investigation that began in the summer of 2021. So that's a 4 period of time essential to the conduct here, but, for 5 reference, it's before the defendant had even become Mayor.

6 Some of the more important categories of discovery we 7 expect to be turning over will include written communications, 8 texts, stuff from signal applications, emails, calendar entries 9 and the like. And to be clear, some of these will be from the 10 defendant himself, the defendant directing a particular person 11 to obtain a contribution or asking the Turkish official -- and 12 I'm going to use all the names in the indictment, obviously not 13 proper names, asking the Turkish official for particular 14 benefits.

15 But others of the communications will then be sort of 16 the follow-on coordination between the defendant's 17 coconspirators. So, for example, where the defendant will send 18 a message to a staffer or perhaps the airline manager. They'll 19 then put in action by talking to coconspirators about how to 20 give the defendant exactly what he asked for in terms of 21 illegal money or travel.

22 And so what I wanted to flag about that, your Honor, 23 is a lot of those communications are going to be in Turkish.
24 Now, we have draft translations of what we consider to be the 25 most important communications and, assuming we can reach a

OA2CadaC

1 stipulation, we'll provide those to the defendant to help him
2 prepare for the case. But the defense may have a different 3 view as to what's important, and we're certainly -- haven't 4 translated everything in our possession.

5 The second category I wanted to discuss are business
6 records. Some of these will be the things that your Honor 7 would expect in any white collar case -- bank records, credit 8 card records, telephone records and the like. Others will be 9 more specific to this case. So, for example, we'll be 10 possessing -- sorry. Disclosing a lot of records from the 11 Turkish airline, showing things like that the defendant did not 12 pay for the $50,000 in flights he took in 2017 or the 13 subsequent cases he obtained these tickets worth $10,000 or 14 more by requesting to pay economy class to create the illusion 15 that he was paying his way, but arranging in advance to receive 16 business class tickets and not some sort of upgrade on the day 17 of.

18 There will also be absence of records issued. So 19 produce all the records, but what may be more significant is if 20 something is missing. So, for example, when the defendant 21 reached out to the Turkish official and the airline manager to 22 provide benefits to the person described as the Adams
23 fundraising indictment, we'll of course produce those messages
24 of the defendant's direct statements. We'll also produce 25 credit card records, hotel records and the like showing that

OA2CadaC

1 none of this was paid for.

2 Similar category, government records, your Honor, and 3 I think the Court can foresee what some of that is going to 4 look like -- forms submitted to the Campaign Finance Board 5 showing particular illegal contributions that we're going to 6 most directly prove, certifications from the defendant that he 7 understood all the rules applicable and to comply with them.
8 Others may be things like ethics trainings, which the defendant 9 took as a city official and at which he acknowledged 10 understanding, for example, that building inspections are 11 conducted for the safety of those who occupy the buildings and 12 that giving -- taking any kind of benefit in association with 13 that is a bribe, is against the law.

14 The next category, and I have two more I just want to 15 hit, your Honor, is electronic records. Some of these will be 16 things like GPS data showing that, for example, a meeting 17 occurred when a witness said it occurred. And then others will 18 be things like photographs, voice memos. Some of the 19 coconspirators here communicated by leaving each other voice 20 memos, often in Turkish. That will be a substantial electronic 21 volume discovery.

22 And then the final category I wanted to hit on, before 23 I get into sort of volume and timeline, your Honor, is 24 witnesses. We expect offering the testimony of multiple 25 witnesses who directly participated with the defendant in the

OA2CadaC

1 charged conduct. And they'll obviously testify about the 2 things they saw him do and heard him say to commit the charged 3 crimes. But we'll also be calling lots of other fact witnesses 4 who will testify about events the defendant was involved in.
5 So just to give one example, I expect we'll be calling 6 witnesses who will say they made illegal contributions to the 7 campaign, and then after they were approached by the FBI, one 8 of the defendants' agents and a city hall employee came to them 9 carrying a message from the defendant, they should not tell the 10 truth to the FBI, and that if they continued to lie, the crimes 11 of question wouldn't be uncovered.

12 I can't get into a lot more detail about witnesses 13 because, as your Honor saw and I just alluded to, there's been 14 significant issues of witness interference in this case, but 15 that is a significant category of evidence for which we will 16 make the appropriate disclosures at the appropriate times.

17 In terms of schedule, your Honor just referenced 18 protective order, assuming the Court finds it acceptable and 19 enters it. The defendant just today handed us a hard drive and 20 we will start loading that up with the first batch of 21 discovery. We think it's about 560 gigabytes. And then 22 subsequent productions after that we intend to make through a 23 commercial vendor, through one of these database companies, 24 which there can often be a little bit of a technical glitch 25 just getting whoever they use as a vendor to talk to our

OA2CadaC

1 vendor, but once we get that hooked up, it makes for a very 2 rapid transfer and also makes everything searchable by the 3 defendant's attorneys, which tends to greatly expedite things 4 here.

5 So that first production, which we will start loading 6 up as soon as we get back to our office, contains significant 7 electronic records, it contains some of the communications I 8 discussed, such as emails, copies of the defendant's devices, 9 and some files from the New York City Department of 10 Investigation.

11 The second production, which is already being sort of 12 processed by the vendor to be exported, is basically subpoena
13 returns. And as your Honor can imagine, for a three-year 14 investigation, they're extensive. The third we'll begin to get 15 some of these written messages and, I think in particular, 16 emails over to the defendant, and we'll continue to push out 17 productions after that.

18 Now, I'm sure the Court is going to ask me, when can 19 you get it all done. By sort of, I guess, somewhat 20 happenstance. Exactly one year ago today, Senator Menendez had 21 his initial appearance. And at that appearance, the government
22 asked Judge Stein to give us until February to make discovery
23 complete and Judge Stein said December. So we began this case 24 looking to comply with that aggressive schedule and we think we 25 will be able to get out substantially all of the discovery by

1 December.

2 There's a couple caveats I do need to make the Court
3 aware of, if that would be alright.

4 So the first is there's areas where we still don't 5 have everything coming in. For example, City Hall -- the 6 Mayor's office, and both of his campaigns have had subpoenas 7 since July, we haven't received -- we have received very 8 little, something, it's not that they're not engaging, but we 9 received very little in terms of response. When we get that 10 in, we'll have to process it and disclose it to the defendant's 11 attorneys. A sort of significant wildcard in this case is the 12 defendant's personal cellphone that was seized in November. As 13 the Court knows, after learning of our investigation, the 14 defendant chose to change --

15 MR. SPIRO: I'm going to object to the continual 16 20-minute opening statement, most of which is misleading and 17 false in a response to a Court's request for categories of 18 discovery which -- and I appreciate that it's a "tell" that 19 they have a weak case, I get that, but it's now a full 20 10-minute opening statement about what the witnesses are going 21 to say, about what they think is going to happen next. The 22 Court just simply asked the prosecutor when they're going to be 23 done with the discovery and the categories. So the defense is 24 going to object to it because it's obvious what he's doing.

25 MR. SCOTTEN: I should say, your Honor, if it's okay,

OA2CadaC

1 this is what most courts in this district ask because knowing
2 what the discovery is and what the evidence is helps the courts
3 to rule on motion. And the thing I was about to get to, the 4 cellphone, really is a significant variable in discovery
5 timing, if the Court would like to hear about it.

6 THE COURT: Okay. First, I don't find that 7 Mr. Scotten has done anything inappropriate. This is helpful 8 for me in understanding the discovery schedule. I will give 9 you a chance, Mr. Spiro, to respond to anything that you want 10 to, but with respect to the cellphone, I think I understand 11 what you're referring to, a locked cellphone, which you don't 12 have access to; is that right?

13 MR. SCOTTEN: That's correct, your Honor. But the 14 sort of significant factor is we probably will get access to it
15 at some point. This is the kind of thing where decryption 16 always catches up with encryption.

17 THE COURT: Let me ask you a question, Mr. Scotten.
18 As relevant to the discovery production schedule, can you 19 provide a copy of this cellphone to defense without unlocking 20 it?

21 MR. SCOTTEN: We can't. Without unlocking it, nobody 22 can even look in the phone, much less --

23 THE COURT: You can't clone it unless you unlock it is 24 what you're saying?

25 MR. SCOTTEN: That's exactly right, your Honor.

OA2CadaC

1 And so the reason it's a delta is we don't know when 2 we'll get access. And then when we do get access, it's not 3 just a question -- we can give him a full copy because it's his 4 own phone, but in terms of discovery litigation, to date, when 5 we've acquired the defendant's personal communications in an 6 overt way, we've then have to do a privileged review, which is 7 entirely appropriate, and not just assertions of privilege 8 relative to his private attorneys, but the city may hold a 9 privilege over some of these communications. And so the 10 process of sort of going through this to produce disclosable 11 discoverable things that can be used as exhibits can be time 12 consuming. I'm not asking for anything on account of that. We 13 simply don't know what'll happen and we're alerting to the 14 Court to the possibility of a future development.

15 And in terms of variability, of course, there's just 16 other areas where devices were recently seized, and so those 17 will take some time also to go through. I understand the 18 defendant's phone was recently seized and he can have all of 19 that, but for coconspirators whose devices are seized, we can't 20 just give him everything on those phones. Our warrant doesn't 21 allow us to seize other people's communications and give them 22 to the defendant, it only allows us to seize what the warrant 23 allows us to seize, so we have to go and identify those and 24 export only those to the defendant and his attorney.

25 And then of course I have to say, as we often do, your

OA2CadaC

1 Honor, this investigation is continuing, so we'll produce new 2 discovery, our review of files will of course continue, and 3 I've never been in a case where we didn't continually find 4 small things and we say, wow, we really should give that to the 5 defendant, and we recognize that our obligations under Rule 16 6 and Brady are continuous, and so when we acquire something new, 7 we'll disclose it.

8 Last thing on that, your Honor, I'm just trying to be 9 comprehensive in case things come up, as the Court may know, 10 there are several related investigations here. So what we 11 propose to do there is discuss them in the first instance, to 12 the extent we can, with the defendant and tell them how we 13 propose to handle the evidence gathered in those cases, and if 14 there's a disagreement, we'll bring it to the Court's 15 attention.

16 I think that is our submission on essentially timing, 17 but happy to answer the Court's question.

18 THE COURT: The first question, you mentioned the 19 second production would be produced via vendor and that would 20 be searchable by defense. Is that also the case with respect 21 to the first production that you're going to be making via the 22 hard drive, is that going to be searchable and useable in the 23 same way?

24 MR. SCOTTEN: It won't come loaded into a database.
25 It will come old fashions PDFs and the like, but it will all be

OA2CadaC

1 text-searchable documents and such. And if he wants to put it 2 into a database, he certainly can.

3 THE COURT: So you propose a December cutoff or 4 deadline, I should say, for discovery along the lines of the 5 Menendez case. What precise date in December would you 6 propose?

7 MR. SCOTTEN: December 15th, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Figure the first week of December in the 9 Menendez case, the 4th or the 5th, if memory serves.

10 MR. SCOTTEN: Then the 5th, your Honor, or the 4th, as 11 the Court chooses.

12 THE COURT: I'll hear from Mr. Spiro on this.

13 MR. SPIRO: Listening to the prosecutor makes me wants 14 to go back for a second to the Brady issue that the Court 15 raised with me. The Court asked me a question which was 16 something along the lines of, if I know of Brady, I made a 17 specific demand, if I know of other issues with the government, 18 am I going to raise them. Obviously I don't have any 19 obligation to do that, the obligation is on them. And so I did 20 want to sort of clarify that, that there will be times when I 21 make the specific Brady demand. I've had other cases where 22 prosecutors hide evidence all the way up until trial and, in 23 the middle of the trial, the trial ends. And so I don't have 24 any affirmative obligation that I'm aware of to always make 25 them aware when I know they're hiding something.

OA2CadaC

1 In terms of what the prosecutor just laid out about 2 what he thinks his case is, I'm not going to respond to it.
3 That's not what production questions are about. I will say
4 that I've seen the statements, the key ones, the exciting ones 5 that they wanted to put in the indictment and what that 6 supports and what that doesn't support, and so that speaks for 7 itself. I think the only thing that really mattered in what he 8 said is that they'll comply by December 4th. I don't really 9 understand what "substantially complied" means, but I assume I 10 will have everything that they have on December 4th.

11 There were three caveats I think that he gave.

12 One is, it is true that they served subpoenas. They 13 served some subpoena on City Hall. It seems to want every 14 possible interaction that Mayor Adams has had with any 15 immigrant community in New York City. They seem to find his 16 interactions with immigrant communities of every possible type 17 to be suspicious to them. I don't know why that's so 18 suspicious to them.

19 Second, nobody told them when to bring this case, they 20 decided when to bring this case. They wanted to do the sort of 21 fake raid of Gracie Mansion when they asked for a cellphone
22 again — that was their call. They don't get to delay discovery 23 because they decided to do that the day of. They decided when 24 to bring this case.

25 And in terms of the full copy of his cellphone, we'll

OA2CadaC

1 get that, there's not going to be anything on that, but that 2 shouldn't be any delay either.

3 So I didn't really hear much in the way of reasons why
4 that can't be full compliance on December 4th, and it sounds 5 like that's what it will be.

6 THE COURT: I just wanted to hear, Mr. Spiro, if you 7 thought that there was a different production timeline that is 8 appropriate here.

9 MR. SPIRO: If they're going to have all of the 10 discovery to us by December 4th, I don't know whether they plan 11 to drift and make it undigestible, but if they do it in the 12 right way and provide us the Brady and Giglio material that 13 they have now that I know they have now, with all due speed, I 14 don't have a problem with completion of discovery on 15 December 4th.

16 THE COURT: So I'll order that discovery be produced
17 by December 4th. I think everyone understands, and it sounds 18 like this is going to happen, it needs to be produced on a 19 rolling basis as soon as practicable. If there are issues with 20 discovery, I'm sure that you will all raise them with me. I'm 21 just going to remind you all of your duty under local Rule 16.1 22 to meet and confer, if there are any disputes about discovery, 23 to do that in good faith before raising those issues with the 24 Court.

25 MR. SCOTTEN: Your Honor, if I could, just one issue

OA2CadaC

1 before the Court moves off that. I should have mentioned it, I 2 was going from an outline of something that the defendant just 3 said. We don't know what he's referring to when he says he has 4 made a particular demand. We'd like to have it so we can 5 engage with him as Rule 16.1 requires. I don't know if -- the 6 defendant obviously has a very large team of lawyers working 7 for him. I'm not sure if his lead counsel believes they sent a 8 letter and they didn't. But if there's a letter asking for any 9 particular things, we'd love to have it.

10 THE COURT: I thought I heard Mr. Spiro say that the 11 letter was given today. Maybe I'm --

12 MR. SCOTTEN: Unless it was filed on our way into 13 court and we don't have it.

14 MR. SPIRO: I made the oral statements, which are the 15 same as a written specific Brady demand, that they have 16 information, all four of them, that their key witness in this 17 case lied to them and is lying about this case and that there 18 was his statement that they are in possession of where she says 19 the opposite of what they claim in the indictment. They're 20 aware of that, all four of them. They haven't turned it over 21 to me and I'm sitting here waiting for it. So there is I think 22 the fourth or fifth time I've made that specific Brady demand.

23 THE COURT: I'm sorry. Did you make it in writing?
24 I'm just trying to clarify the record because I don't think I 25 understood what you were representing earlier to me.

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: It hasn't been, nor is it required to be 2 made in writing. I've made it. It's a specific Brady demand.

3 THE COURT: I wasn't saying that it was required to be 4 made in writing, I was just trying to clarify the record as to 5 whether or not one had been submitted to them in some kind of 6 formal way.

7 I think the government, you're aware of your 8 obligations under Brady pursuant to the written order that 9 Judge Parker issued earlier today, so I'll leave it to you all 10 to work all of this out.

11 MR. SCOTTEN: Thank you, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: So I want to talk about a motions schedule 13 related to materials that are produced in discovery.

14 Mr. Spiro, if everything is produced on December 4th, 15 you're obviously going to need – and it will come on a rolling 16 basis – some time to review and then to prepare motions. How 17 much time do you think you'll need for that?

18 MR. SPIRO: I have no reason to think there will be 19 need for additional motions in this case outside of when they 20 give us their exhibits. If this case survives our motion to 21 dismiss and our additional motions or any part of this case 22 survives, at that point, they turn over their exhibit list, 23 there'll be motions in limine. I don't have any reason to 24 think that there are going to be additional motions. I have to 25 see the discovery, but we want to get to trial.

OA2CadaC

1 THE COURT: I understand that. I think it's standard 2 practice typically to set a motion schedule for anything that 3 comes up in discovery. I know as of right now you're not 4 anticipating filing any, but you haven't seen the material yet.
5 So, after seeing it, you might want to file something in which 6 case I think it's important to have a placeholder. If you 7 don't need it, then you don't need it. I'd like to put 8 something on the docket that we have at least as a control date
9 for any such motions. We'll have an opportunity to talk before 10 then, I'm sure, to see whether or not that schedule remains 11 necessary. Just assuming that there might be something that 12 comes up in discovery that you want to file a motion on, how 13 much time do you think you might need to prepare that after 14 December 4?

15 MR. SPIRO: Two weeks.

16 THE COURT: Any objection from the government on that?

17 MR. SCOTTEN: We have no objection to -- the defendant 18 can take as little or as much time as we want. We'd love to 19 have a schedule that doesn't require us to file on January 1st, 20 which I think is what he just proposed, but no objection to the 21 defendant filing as fast as he wants.

22 THE COURT: Defendant's motions are due on 23 December 18th. Obviously we have to take the holidays into 24 account here.

25 When would the government want to oppose by? If you

OA2CadaC

1 need a few moments to confer, please, feel free.

2 MR. SCOTTEN: Just need to look at a calendar, your 3 Honor. Thanks.

4 January 6th, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro.

6 MR. SPIRO: That's fine, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Again, I know you might not need these 8 deadlines, but assuming we do, the government files on 9 January 6th. How much time would you need for reply?

10 MR. SPIRO: Standard one week, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: 1/13.

12 Government, any objection?

13 MR. SCOTTEN: None, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Any motions related to discovery, opening 15 by defendant December 18th, opposition by the government
16 January 6th, reply from defendant January 13th. I'll set a 17 control date for a hearing on any such motions, if filed, let's 18 say January 27th.

19 Given the schedule that we've laid out here with a 20 hearing on the pending motions at the end of this month and a 21 control date for a hearing on any further motions of January 22 27th, I think it would make sense to set an interim status 23 conference around the time of the discovery deadline of 24 December 4th just to check in to see how discovery is going and 25 also whether or not we in fact need those motions dates. If

OA2CadaC

1 discovery is due on December 4th, I'm going to propose, if this 2 works with your schedules, December 5th.

3 Any conflicts? Mr. Spiro, I see you're about to 4 speak.

5 MR. SPIRO: That date may be tricky. I also think 6 that if the Court is setting this, just partially inquire 7 whether or not we're going to make additional motions, we 8 probably want the next week, at least from the defense's 9 perspective.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Let's say December 13th. Friday
11 the 13th work for everyone? Mr. Spiro.

12 MR. SPIRO: That's fine, your Honor.

13 MR. SCOTTEN: That works for us, your Honor. We did 14 want to make sure that any reciprocal defense discovery under 15 Rule 26.1 that they have in their possession would also be in 16 our possession by the 4th so that -- much less likely we'll 17 have motions, but you never know, and I understand the Court 18 wants to be comprehensive.

19 THE COURT: Fair enough.

20 Mr. Spiro.

21 MR. SPIRO: Until I see the government's discovery, I 22 won't know exactly what our discovery is, but I will provide it 23 under the applicable rules.

24 THE COURT: Anything else on discovery?

25 MR. SCOTTEN: I'm not sure, your Honor. So there's an

OA2CadaC

1 issue with the Classified Information Procedures Act we'd like 2 to discuss, which is in great part a discovery issue. Happy to 3 do that now or on the Court's timing.

4 THE COURT: Why don't we address it now. That's fine.

5 MR. SCOTTEN: So the short of it, your Honor, is we do
6 anticipate litigation under the Classified Information 7 Procedures Act, often called CIPA. It's my understanding, and 8 we've been in touch with court personnel, that the process is 9 already underway to appoint a classified information security
10 officer who works for the Court and help the Court handle 11 classified information, help court staff get clearances and 12 help any defense counsel even get clearances. I think we'll 13 file very shortly, next day or two, on the public docket a 14 letter outlining generally CIPA procedures we expect in this 15 case. But, obviously, I can't discuss in this forum any 16 specifics about whether there is or is not classified
17 information in this case. So we will also request shortly a 18 Section 2 conference under CIPA held in a secure area where if 19 the Court -- we can tell the Court something about what may be 20 at issue, and if the Court has questions, it can ask us.

21 And I'll just say in advance, since I see the 22 defendant is prepared to rise in this, that is a approved 23 practice in this circuit, particularly under a wrap. I think 24 it's in every circuit, but the precedent here is a wrap.

25 THE COURT: Let me ask you, that filing you're going

OA2CadaC

1 to put on the docket in the next day or two you said,
2 definitely designate a point person to be the CIPA officer.
3 Are you going to ask the Court to or are you identifying a 4 person?

5 MR. SCOTTEN: No, your Honor. To be clear, there's a 6 sort of senior court officer who appoints these people. I 7 don't know if he wants his name on the record, but he'll make 8 himself known to the Court. And then he'll choose one of his 9 subordinates to be the Court's officer. We don't pick -- I 10 think the Court picks. I mean, I -- usually, they defer to 11 whoever the officer puts in charge, but it's really somebody 12 who works for the Court, not for us.

13 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Scotten.

14 Mr. Spiro.

15 MR. SPIRO: I anticipated a lot of the comments today 16 that would come. Whether or not the intention is to delay the 17 trial or not, I don't know everything going on at this table, 18 but I will tell the Court that we don't need to challenge that, 19 that if it's going to be used as an attempt to delay this, 20 we'll simply ask them what their exhibits are if it's an 21 exhibit, do they actually have any evidence that they're 22 planning to use at the trial if it's admissible evidence. And 23 that's that. We don't have to have motion practice.

24 THE COURT: I thought we already addressed the issue 25 of motion practice, Mr. Spiro. I'm asking if you had any

OA2CadaC

1 response about what Mr. Scotten said about CIPA.

2 MR. SPIRO: Well, the reason I'm raising it in the way
3 I'm raising it is because if there are ex parte communications 4 or this suggestion under this rubric that there's something 5 classified and confidential and people are going to have to get 6 clearances, and maybe it's a delay tactic, I'm not interested 7 in challenging it, meaning I'm telling the Court that whatever 8 happens, not all that I'm going to be privy to, the defense 9 effectively does not care. We don't believe they have any 10 evidence in this case at all to prove these charges, let alone 11 this. And so we're not going to be -- the intention is not to 12 even challenge any of this. I want the Court to be aware of 13 that.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 So there's no -- go ahead, Mr. Scotten.

16 MR. SCOTTEN: With all respect to my adversary, I'm 17 not entirely clear he understands CIPA. It's mostly about 18 discovery obligations. So it's seldom, although sometimes, 19 subject to adversary challenging, it's really more about making 20 sure that the defendant -- any discoverable information that 21 the defendant may be entitled to, you know, he gets or the 22 Court sees it and says that's not discoverable.

23 I don't even know if he can waive, you know, having 24 the Court review this stuff. If he wants to look into whether 25 he can just waive everything here, we're happy to look into

1 whether it's a waivable right. But it's not really about our 2 evidence so much as about what he might be entitled to in 3 discovery.

4 THE COURT: I appreciate you flagging this. There's 5 no action you're asking the Court to take at this time, you're 6 just flagging this as an issue that's going to come down the 7 road?

8 MR. SCOTTEN: That's right.

9 THE COURT: Anything else on discovery?

10 MR. SCOTTEN: Not on discovery, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro, anything else on discovery?

12 MR. SPIRO: No, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: I just want to talk about trial.

14 As a preview for me, if there's a trial, is there an 15 estimate as to how long the government's case will take?

16 MR. SCOTTEN: Just the government's case in chief,
17 your Honor?

18 THE COURT: Yes, and then trial altogether.

19 MR. SCOTTEN: Sure. So we would propose tentatively 20 four weeks. Obviously we don't know the length of the defense 21 case, if any, but we think four weeks at this juncture seems 22 reasonable for the Court to budget.

23 THE COURT: For the entire trial or government's case 24 in chief?

25 MR. SCOTTEN: For the entire trial. Obviously that's

OA2CadaC

1 making assumptions as with the usual length of the defense 2 case.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro, do you have any assessment as 4 to how long you think the trial will take?

5 MR. SPIRO: I don't think it will take nearly that 6 long.

7 THE COURT: Do you have a sense what you think the 8 proper length of trial is?

9 MR. SPIRO: Most of the allegations in the indictment 10 are regarding the bribery count, which we don't expect to 11 survive. The second half of the case is the donations that 12 were made at a couple of fundraisers. Frankly, I don't see the 13 government's case taking more than a week, other than the 14 simple evidence and the defense a couple of days. So I think 15 this is a two-week trial, but that's my view.

16 THE COURT: And of the four weeks that you estimated 17 Mr. Scotten, how much of that was the government's case in 18 chief?

19 MR. SCOTTEN: About three weeks, your Honor, and then 20 a week for defense case, arguments, obviously not predicting 21 deliberations. That's historic -- usually that's about the 22 right ratio, can't say that it will be the case here.

23 THE COURT: Practices vary in this district as to when 24 a trial date is set. Sometimes it's at the initial conference, 25 sometimes at a subsequent one. I have typically been doing it

1 at a subsequent conference after we see how the case unfolds a
2 little bit, that's in part because I'm reluctant to set a trial
3 date that's just a control date. If we set a trial date, I 4 want it to be something that the parties can realistically meet
5 and won't seek to move absent compelling cause. Obviously 6 things can change, so if it becomes necessary, that's fine, but 7 I'm generally reluctant to set a trial date at the initial 8 conference, but I'll hear from you all if there are different 9 views as to how we should proceed here.

10 Mr. Spiro.

11 MR. SPIRO: We're asking for a trial date. They 12 indicted the city mayor of New York. There is a primary 13 election. There's no reason not to set it today and there is 14 Second Circuit precedent that says that -- I think it says 15 "ought to be set." I understand that there's varying practices 16 in this district, but we're asking the Court to set it today.
17 There's no reason not to. The defense, absent something that I 18 cannot imagine -- it has never happened in my career. We're 19 not going to ask for a delay. The government, as they always 20 say, is always ready. So they decided when to bring this case, 21 we should set a trial date. We're not waiving the Speedy Trial 22 Act one day for any reason.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro, what would you propose for a 24 trial date then?

25 MR. SPIRO: Given when the primary ballots and things

OA2CadaC

1 have to be done, this case should conclude in March.

2 THE COURT: You made a reference to the primary 3 ballots. What dates do you think are relevant that I should be 4 taking into consideration and setting a trial date?

5 MR. SPIRO: We're going to expose a little bit of my 6 lack of precise election law. I knew what I was saying and I 7 meant to make that record on CIPA. The process in New York is 8 a bit archaic, but, effectively, the ballots have a 9 certification process where nominees go on and that process 10 takes place in March, and so we want this case to be done in 11 March. Precise dates change year to year and the precise 12 mechanisms change slightly and the election board has to 13 certify, but, effectively, we want this trial to be in March.

14 THE COURT: The reason I was looking up to the ceiling
15 is because I was trying to think about what the elections
16 calendar looks like here, Mr. Spiro, because I agree that, as a 17 general matter, first of all, the public and Mayor Adams have 18 an interest in a speedy trial here. I also agree that interest 19 is heightened in the context of the elections calendar. What 20 I'm not clear about are the precise dates of the elections 21 calendar that matter with respect to that. It's not obvious to 22 me sitting here, although I could be wrong, that certification
23 deadline matters. I think the public should obviously know 24 about the results of proceedings here sooner rather than later.
25 So I agree with that, but I'm not sure why the ballot

OA2CadaC

1 certification precisely should matter in that assessment.

2 MR. SPIRO: Let me help explain a little bit because I 3 needed to learn a little bit about this, too, which is even 4 being placed on the ballot and being allowed to be on the 5 ballot before the actual primary election is a process that 6 happens in March. And so I think the certification next year, 7 the calendar changes every year, but next year is the first 8 week of April. So at that time, they certify who gets to be on 9 the ballot, right, you have to have a certain amount of 10 signatures, then there's a whole process, city counsel, that I 11 frankly don't fully understand. But I do understand that in 12 order to be on the ballot, you have to go through a process.
13 Even an incumbent effectively does not just get to be on the 14 ballot. And so the people of the State of New York and the 15 Mayor want to have this case done in March, and he has every, 16 in my view, every right under the Sixth Amendment and the 17 Speedy Trial Act to have it done by March.

18 THE COURT: What I don't understand is why having a 19 trial before this certification process matters for the 20 certification process. I understand why it matters for 21 Election Day, I think that's pretty obvious, June 24th, I 22 believe, and then there's an early voting period before that.
23 What I'm failing to grasp, and please enlighten me, is why the 24 proceedings here matter for the certification process.

25 MR. SPIRO: Sure. At the trial, we expect the Mayor

OA2CadaC

1 to be acquitted swiftly. So when he's acquitted, there's not 2 going to be any objections to his placement on the ballot and 3 there's not going to be any issue of making sure that he's on 4 the ballot, and that he has the requisite votes and that 5 everything happens the way it ought to have happened had the 6 government not decided to bring this case. If he is not 7 acquitted by that point, there are issues in politics that have 8 to do with people saying, well, isn't it possible, as flimsy as 9 it may be, that they get a conviction? Then we've used our 10 ballots and our nomination and our certification of him on a 11 candidate that is not going to win the election because he was 12 convicted.

13 So the idea of going out and getting the votes, 14 getting the process happening, getting through certification, 15 that entire process, which occurs in March, is quite different 16 being an acquitted innocent man versus a man under the weight 17 of this case. And so, those more expert in election law and 18 the processes in New York than me have said, and I think 19 they've said publicly, frankly, that the people of the State of 20 New York ought to get an answer then.

21 THE COURT: Again, tell me if I've got this wrong, but 22 my understanding of the certification process is it's merely 23 the collection and verification of petition signatures; is that 24 not right? You made a reference to objections based on these 25 proceedings? I'm not sure I follow.

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: Well, it's not going to be an objection
2 per se based on these proceedings. He can't be disqualified in 3 any way, shape, or form because of these proceedings. But the 4 Court, even in its response, the getting of the signatures 5 even, right, so you go to meet with members of the community as 6 an innocent man versus a man with this hanging over them is a 7 different process, it just is. It's a different process for 8 the voters. Each voter who is giving their signature is 9 deciding in that moment, I am going to endorse this person to 10 be on the ballot versus that person. And they decided to pick, 11 of all the politicians in this town, getting their iced teas
12 filled up and having extra legroom, they pick this guy. So 13 he's at a huge disadvantage and so are the people of New York 14 who elected him.

15 So what we're asking for is to have this case resolved
16 prior to effectively when the election process meaningfully 17 begins, which is of course also supported by the Sixth 18 Amendment, the public interests, Speedy Trial Act, et cetera.
19 But I don't even think -- so I don't know that you need get to 20 this point that has been made publicly, and to me, and that 21 I've made to the Court to even have to get there, your Honor.
22 To have this trial in March, I can't imagine that the 23 government is going to object to having this trial in March.

24 THE COURT: Let me ask you this: When does the period 25 for gathering petition signatures begin?

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: February is my understanding. Everything
2 I said today was deliberate until this moment, which is that 3 I'm going to give the Court my best understanding of this.

4 THE COURT: Fair enough. I'm not going to hold you to 5 that if we figure out the actual dates are something slightly 6 different. It seems to me, Mr. Spiro, what you're asking for 7 is a resolution of the case before the petition signature
8 period begins, which will be February, not March.

9 MR. SPIRO: So that, I have evaluated that in my own 10 mind and spoken to the folks that understand the election 11 process. As long as it's concluded in March, the people of the 12 State of New York are going to get an opportunity, right. That 13 gives sufficient time. You're right, I could come in and I 14 could say, no, you know, the verdict must come down before the 15 first signature could go to anybody, I could take that 16 position. I think the Court would rightfully push back and 17 say, well, since it's a several-week process, you don't need to 18 actually be good to go day one.

19 So that's why I'm putting some give in with my 20 request, because it seems to me, and it seems to me by actually 21 consulting with folks that would know this on all sides, that 22 the case being tried and concluded in March is sufficient and 23 the trial is not going to take nearly as long as the government 24 has predicted, I can assure the Court. And so I doubt the 25 government, frankly, has an objection to this trial date in

OA2CadaC

1 March. It would surprise me if they did.

2 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Spiro.

3 Mr. Scotten, it's two questions here:

4 Should I set a trial date today or hold off until we 5 know a little bit more about the case?

6 If I were to set a trial date today, what would the 7 government's position be as to when roughly that trial date 8 should be?

9 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor.

10 So, for the first question, I really think that is 11 entirely in the Court's discretion. As the Court noted, both 12 practices are common here, that is to say whether or not to set 13 the date today. I don't think there's really anything about 14 setting a date today that is actually going to expedite the 15 date. Waiting to set the date until December doesn't mean the 16 Court has to push back whatever date it would set until then.
17 So I don't think there's any advantage one way or the other in 18 terms of speedy resolution in setting a date today verses 19 another day. It is sometimes nice to set a date early because 20 we make sure that everybody's calendar is clear, but I think at 21 this point everyone is going to clear their calendar for 22 whatever date the Court sets. So I don't think that's a 23 significant concern.

24 Some things -- in terms of what date the Court should 25 set, whenever it set it, we were again using the Menendez case

OA2CadaC

1 as a model because much like the defendant here, Senator 2 Menendez then was facing the beginning of a reelection cycle in 3 the following year. As far as we can tell, it looks broadly 4 similar. And I certainly share with Mr. Spiro the willingness 5 to disclaim my knowledge of election law. And so we were 6 looking at the May date set by Judge Stein, which, as the Court 7 may know, he really moved heaven and earth to get it done that 8 early.

9 We're going to be comfortable with any date, that's 10 100-percent correct. But I would be surprised if the defendant 11 is going to, right now, waive all his appellate rights should 12 he be convicted, and there's a lot of things that have to be 13 done before a trial to make sure the defendant's rights are 14 observed. And so I don't want to be in a position where the 15 Court sets a date that is a rush. But I understand the 16 defendant, as every defendant does, is going to say, well, I'll 17 be acquitted. But he's got rights if he's not and I want to 18 make sure we do this in a sufficiently deliberate fashion that 19 all those rights are observed.

20 MR. SPIRO: If I could respond briefly.

21 THE COURT: Sure.

22 MR. SPIRO: I'll be ready to try the case in March. I 23 didn't hear an objection to March. I'm not going to be asking 24 for a further delay. I do know how to try cases and I know 25 when I can be ready for this trial. This idea, there are no

OA2CadaC

1 appellate rights that are triggered by a lawyer coming in and 2 saying, this is the date we want and the people of the State of 3 New York want this date. That's my response to that.

4 I understand that they have one example of one 5 politician who had a much, much different case, and defense 6 lawyers have also needed more time and there were lots of 7 different circumstances in that case, including the superseding 8 indictment, completely different evidence, nothing like this 9 case, and they had a slightly later date. So there's a reason 10 why the Attorney General issues that directive, that cases 11 should not be brought before elections to interfere with 12 elections. And I think that those words should ring out even 13 now, that this case was brought a month before the national 14 election, and any delay that the government is seeking, we're 15 objecting to. But I didn't hear that. I heard, sure, we can 16 be ready, like they always say, at any time. So that's what we 17 would ask. We're not waiving Speedy Trial Act and/or anything 18 regarding the Sixth Amendment right to a speedy trial.

19 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Spiro.

20 I didn't hear a lot of daylight, actually, between 21 what you each identified as potential trial dates. You want 22 March, Mr. Spiro, the government was suggesting we follow 23 something like the schedule in the Menendez case, which got to 24 trial I think in the first or second week of May. Now that 25 difference of two months may matter a lot to you, but in terms

1 of total calendar time, it's not a tremendous amount. I'm 2 going to take it under advisement today. We have a few touches
3 in the near future, including for argument on the pending
4 motions. I think there'll be other opportunities for us to set 5 a trial date soon, but I want to consider your respective 6 positions on this before I do so.

7 Is there anything else with respect to scheduling that 8 you all want to raise with me?

9 MR. SCOTTEN: Other than returning the speedy trial 10 clock, no, your Honor.

12 MR. SPIRO: No, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: There are a few other issues I want to 14 raise with you before we turn to the speedy trial clock. The 15 first is guidelines with respect to scheduling and requests for 16 scheduling going forward. I want to reiterate my belief that 17 the public has a strong interest here in a speedy trial.
18 Obviously Mayor Adams also has a strong interest in a speedy 19 trial. So I'm going to do my best to keep the case moving 20 forward. I do have to balance those interests against giving 21 the parties adequate time to litigate this case appropriately 22 to serve the ends of justice. I'm also aware that changes in 23 the schedule are going to be necessary from time to time, but I
24 want to be clear that any requests to change the schedule 25 should be first made with clarity as early as possible; second,

OA2CadaC

1 it should be on ECF in a single submission; and third, should 2 have an explanation as to why there's good cause for a change.

3 I highlight all of this because we had some requests 4 around the schedule last week, including around the date of the 5 arraignment, and I just want to clarify why I denied that 6 request to adjourn the arraignment until this week. On 7 September 26th, I received a request to schedule the 8 arraignment from defense for either September 27th or 9 September 30th. Later that day, in accordance with that 10 request, I scheduled it for September 27th, which triggered a 11 significant amount of work by the staff of the clerk's office 12 and the district executive's office on pretty short notice
13 because it would have been the following day. Now at the same 14 time I scheduled this conference for this week, as is common 15 practice in this district to have the arraignment on one day
16 and the initial conference on another. After that order, I 17 received a succession of communications, a letter on ECF and 18 then two emails to chambers asking for a change in the date of 19 the arraignment and to combine it with this conference due to 20 logistical problems, which were unspecified and confusing
21 language as to what date defense counsel now preferred. Given 22 the amount of machinery that had already been set in motion to 23 accommodate the initial request for a quick arraignment and the 24 absence of a clear explanation as to why defense wanted a 25 change, I denied the request to change the date of the

OA2CadaC

1 arraignment and to combine it with this conference.

2 I want to be clear that in the future, if there are 3 requests to change a certain date, or to have a certain date, I
4 should say, you'll stick to what you request. If you need a 5 change, you'll file it on ECF, not via email to chambers. I'll 6 only consider it if you explain why there's good cause in a 7 single submission for a change in the date. If you don't, I'll 8 deny it on that basis alone. I just want to make sure that 9 counsel understands that and see if there are any questions 10 from counsel as to those instructions.

11 Mr. Scotten.

12 MR. SCOTTEN: Not from the government, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro.

14 MR. SPIRO: Not from the defense.

15 THE COURT: One other guideline that I want to hit, 16 which is with respect to the presumption of public access to 17 documents. Now I understand there may be CIPA issues involved 18 in this case and we'll take those as they come, but I just want 19 to remind counsel that there's a presumption of public access 20 to judicial documents, and this is obviously a case of 21 significant public interest. Other than what you can, without 22 court approval, file in redacted or sealed form under the local 23 rules, things like personal identifying information, financial 24 account numbers and the like, I expect requests for redaction 25 of documents to be narrowly tapered.

OA2CadaC

1 And just to go over the rules here for the procedures, 2 I should say, if it's necessary to file a sealed or redacted 3 document, you have to file a letter motion seeking to redact or 4 seal that document specifying the reasons for such sealing or 5 redaction and citing authority that those reasons can justify 6 overcoming the presumption of public access and then file their 7 own redacted documents under seal, which will remain 8 temporarily sealed until the Court resolves the motion to 9 redact or seal the documents, and if it's appropriate, file a 10 redacted version of those documents on the public docket.

11 Are there any questions about any of that?

12 Mr. Scotten.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Spiro.

15 MR. SPIRO: No, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Two other quick items that I want to 17 address before the speedy trial clock. These are two items 18 that I do not believe rise to the level of a conflict, but 19 which I want to disclose in an abundance of caution.

20 The first is that it's recently come to my attention
21 that Mayor Adams has, at times, been represented by the law 22 firm WilmerHale, including in connection with this 23 investigation. From 2009 to 2013, I worked at the NAACP Legal 24 Defense Fund, and one of my colleagues during that time, Debo 25 Adegbile, is a partner at WilmerHale. As far as I know, he has

OA2CadaC

1 not worked on this case or anything related to it, and I don't 2 believe my prior work with Mr. Adegbile over a decade ago is a 3 basis for recusal, but I'm disclosing it to the parties in an 4 abundance of caution.

5 The second item is that this case, as has been 6 revealed by this conference, touches upon New York City's 7 campaign finance laws, and in 2018, I served on the New York
8 City Charter Revision Commission. That commission recommended, 9 among other things, a proposal to reduce the city's campaign 10 contribution limits. That proposal was submitted to and 11 ultimately ratified by the voters of New York City and I 12 believe provides for current campaign contribution limits in 13 New York City. It did not alter existing prohibitions that are 14 based on the identity of a contributor. I've reviewed the 15 various applicable codes of conduct and the indictment, and 16 sitting here today, I don't believe my prior work on the prior 17 commission constitutes a basis for recusal, but, obviously, if 18 either parties disagrees with me on either front, you can file 19 a motion, and I want to set a deadline for any such motions.

20 We set a deadline of Friday, October 18th, for the 21 government's opposition to the pending motions to dismiss. We 22 may as well roll everything up there and if anyone wants to 23 file a motion to recuse me, you can file a motion by 24 October 18th.

25 Understood, Mr. Spiro?

OA2CadaC

1 MR. SPIRO: Yes, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Scotten.

3 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Any other matters you want to raise with 5 me before I turn to the speedy trial clock?

6 MR. SCOTTEN: No, your Honor. Thanks.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 I'm reminded we need to set times for the hearings
10 that we've put on the calendar. For the October 31st hearing, 11 I'm actually going to propose we hold that hearing on 12 November 1st, if there's no conflict on either side.

13 Mr. Spiro.

15 THE COURT: Mr. Scotten.

16 MR. SCOTTEN: Fine with the government, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Let's say 2:00 p.m. on Friday, 18 November 1st.

19 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: And then the interim discovery conference, 21 which I seat for December 5th.

22 MR. SCOTTEN: We think it was December 13th, your 23 Honor.

24 THE COURT: I'm sorry. December 13th. Let's also say 25 2:00 p.m.

OA2CadaC

1 Let's turn to the speedy trial clock. Any motion from 2 the government?

3 MR. SCOTTEN: Yes, your Honor. Since there's actually 4 probably going to be argument on this, I'll take a little bit 5 more time.

6 Your Honor is correct. Time is obviously excluded
7 under 3161(h)(7). We had a chance to look up Moreno, the case
8 cited by the defendant. It's about a different provision. It 9 was a case in which the government sought continuances based on 10 needing to find a witness and the Court determined the search 11 for the witness hadn't been diligent. Really, it's no 12 authority at all.

13 But, that said, I think the Court is going to resolve 14 the motions fairly quickly. And it's obviously we're not -- 15 obviously not going to trial until after the December 13th 16 conference. And I think the Court, implicit in setting that 17 schedule and the like, has already sort of made the requisite 18 factual determinations that excluding time under the speedy 19 trial clock, at least until December 13th, to allow the 20 defendant to receive and review discovery and to determine 21 whether any motions are necessary would be in the interest of 22 justice such that it would, as courts do typically find, 23 outweigh the public's right for a speedy trial at this time.
24 So we'd move to exclude until December 13th, understanding that 25 most of that time is automatically excluded anyway.

OA2CadaC

1 THE COURT: Mr. Scotten, one of the factors that I can 2 consider, setting aside the mandatory exclusion, I know 3 Mr. Spiro disagrees about whether or not the exclusion is 4 mandatory based on the filing of the motions and we'll address
5 that, but setting aside that and addressing exclusions of time 6 under (h)(7)(A), one of the factors that I can consider is 7 whether or not there is a complex case under (h)(7)(B). What's 8 the government's position as to whether or not this case is 9 "complex within the meaning of the Speedy Trial Act"?

10 MR. SCOTTEN: It is complex, your Honor. Within the 11 meaning of the Speedy Trial Act, I think the allegations are 12 simple and straightforward, but given the volume of discovery, 13 the fact that the defense already wishes to litigate the 14 constitutionality of at least one -- I think it's 15 constitutional in part motion to dismiss, or at least the 16 lawfulness of one of the charges, and just the really 17 tremendous volume of evidence that will be submitted in this 18 case, we certainly think it qualifies under the Speedy Trial 19 Act.

20 THE COURT: Okay. I'll hear from Mr. Spiro.

21 MR. SPIRO: The case I cited stands for the 22 proposition that if the government intentionally commits 23 misconduct to get an advantage in the case by being dishonest 24 with the Court to take more time to find a witness or by 25 leaking grand jury information in order to taint the jury pool

OA2CadaC

1 and do other things that are discussed in the motion, that they 2 don't get an advantage from that, that that's what that case
3 stands for. And so that is our position as to the first block 4 of time all the way until the second block of time. Once the 5 Court renders a decision on those motions, I don't see why the 6 government, having brought this case, having prepared this 7 case, having indicted the sitting Mayor can't get us the 8 discovery faster. They get discovery when they want and the 9 Court set the schedule, but I don't see that next period of 10 time to December 13th as being a period of time now taking that 11 second block that should be excluded.

12 This is not a complex case. I think the prosecutor 13 just said that the charges in the case are simple and 14 straightforward. We're talking about one allegation of bribery 15 that we don't think is likely to survive and some $10,000 of 16 donor funds that are then matched. The act says a case so 17 unusual, so complex. And it talks about different factors.
18 Lots of defendants - there aren't. Lots of counts - there 19 aren't. And so they're producing the discovery in a couple of 20 months.

21 We're not going to be seeking any delays. The public 22 has a strong interest. And we don't see any basis, frankly, 23 nor did I hear one for this Court to rule this is a complex
24 case. If this was a complex case, then every federal case 25 would be a complex case and it's not. And the Sixth Amendment

OA2CadaC

1 and the Speedy Trial Act says so.

2 We're going to be ready for trial. And I want to 3 clarify that, which is just simply we asked the Court for the 4 case to be done in March, was my request. It doesn't mean that 5 if the Court were to give me April or February, we'd ask to go
6 to trial in February. And so I don't want that March to sort 7 of become a -- one of the bookends that the Court is 8 considering versus their, well, in one other case, we did it 9 May, right. I heard them say they could do March, and I also 10 heard them sort of just give some analogous comment. We want 11 this case to be done with by March. We will not be waiving 12 speedy trial. We will be ready, if the Court required, to go 13 to trial in February. And so I wanted to say that.

14 And then the case I referenced before, which is 15 Gambino -- it's a Second Circuit case -- just talks about that no 16 matter what a Court rules on speedy trial exclusion, that the 17 Second Circuit at least suggests that courts should set the 18 trial date regardless, even if things change, because it allows 19 the parties to prepare and everything else.

20 I'll finally say to the Court, and I did my best as we 21 were here to accommodate scheduling, but obviously -- I could 22 just say, my practice is reported to other judges and other 23 districts all over the country, and the sooner that the date is 24 set, I want to make sure I am 100-percent available because 25 there are other people that are going to ask. And so I just

OA2CadaC

1 wanted to go back and touch on that. So, thanks.

2 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Spiro.

3 Here are my findings with respect to the Speedy Trial 4 Act. My reading of 3161(h)(1)(D) and (H) is that when there's 5 a pending motion to dismiss, time is automatically excluded 6 from the Speedy Trial Act calculation. So with the filing of 7 the motion to dismiss on Monday, I don't think I have any 8 discretion one way or the other, time is automatically excluded 9 through the full submission hearing and prompt resolution of 10 the motions. So that's automatic.

11 As for the government's request to exclude time 12 through December 13th: First, I find that this case is 13 complex. There is not only voluminous discovery, but the 14 nature of the discovery itself supports a finding of complexity 15 as set forth in this hearing, that includes the nature of the 16 electronic records here, which include cellphone records, text 17 messages, GPS location material, the fact that many of these 18 documents or at least some of them are foreign and are going to 19 have to require translation from another language. The fact 20 that we have potential classified information, issues that will 21 have to be addressed. There are also significant legal 22 questions in this case as demonstrated by the two pending 23 motions.

24 I find this case is a complex case under 25 3161(h)(7)(B). That supports a finding that it's appropriate

OA2CadaC

1 to exclude time through December 13th under 3161(h)(7)(A). I
2 find that the ends of justice served by excluding such time
3 outweigh the interests of the public and the defendant in a 4 speedy trial because it will provide time for production of 5 discovery and review by defendant. The discovery schedule, 6 which the government has outlined through the beginning of 7 December, is consistent with other cases of a similar nature 8 that have been tried in this district. It will give time for 9 the defendant to review those materials and report back to the 10 Court as to whether or not he intends to file any motions and 11 will also serve to ensure effective assistance of counsel and 12 prevent any miscarriage of justice.

13 Is there anything else that the parties would like to 14 raise with me today?

15 Mr. Scotten.

16 MR. SCOTTEN: Not from the government, your Honor.
17 Thank you.

19 MR. SPIRO: No, your Honor. Thank you.

20 THE COURT: Thank you, all, for your time today.
21 We're adjourned.
